Material world = World of death.

Death = Forgetfulness of our previously created body on account of the transmigration of the soul.

Life = Fight with material nature which imposes death on us.
One night, Zhuangzi dreamed that he was a carefree butterfly, flying happily. After he woke up, he wondered how he could determine whether he was Zhuangzi who had just finished dreaming he was a butterfly, or a butterfly who had just started dreaming he was Zhuangzi.
Thank you very much!
