Digital Scholarship at Northeastern: Fall Welcome
September 24, 2018

Hosted by:
NULab for Texts, Maps, and Networks, Northeastern University
Digital Scholarship Group, Northeastern University Libraries

Keynote: Lives are not Metadata

3:00 - 3:15pm: Welcome

Elizabeth Maddock Dillon, Professor, English Department, College of Social Sciences &
Humanities and Co-Director, NULab for Text, Maps, and Networks

3:15 - 4:00pm: Keynote

Lives are not Metadata

Monica Martinez, Stanley J. Bernstein '65 P'02 Assistant Professor of American Studies at Brown University

Lightning Talks

4:15 - 5:00pm

Molly Nebiolo
PhD Student, Department of History
Digitally Representing Colonial Boston’s Social and Spatial History

Tina Eliassi-Rad
Assistant Professor, College of Computer and Information Science
Just Machine Learning

Lara Rose
PhD Student, Department of English
The Women Writers Project and Intertextual Networks

Cody Dunne
Assistant Professor, College of Computer and Information Science
Using Seriated Adjacency Matrices to Understand Word2vec Models of Text Bases
Dan Jackson and Jules Sievert
Executive Director and Creative Director, NuLawLab
NuLawLab & Interdisciplinary Legal Empowerment

Reception to follow

http://dsg.northeastern.edu/
@NU_DSG

http://www.northeastern.edu/nulab/
@NUlabTMN